POLICY SUMMARY

This Technology Procurement and Disposal Policy (Policy) sets forth the Loyola University Maryland processes by which technology is procured, supported, replaced, and disposed of, and clarifies the responsibility of Technology Services and Loyola faculty, students, administrators, and staff in this process. This Policy includes information technology and software procured with University funds, including faculty development funds and grants. The procurement and disposal of specialized equipment will be assessed with input from impacted departments.

REASON FOR POLICY

applies to all technology hardware and software procured with University funds for University business and academic activities. This ensures that all technology systems maintain proper licensing, meet minimum required specifications, are compatible with existing systems, leverage educational volume discounts, secure University data, and comply with accessibility standards. Technology asset tracking enables the University to manage the life-cycle replacement of equipment and software.

STATEMENT OF POLICY

1. University Technology Procurement

Departments that wish to procure technology solutions such as new software, online services or hardware must submit their request to Technology Services to be procured standards.

Confidential

Any issues with computer hardware must be reported to Technology Services for evaluation. The decision to repair or replace will be at the discretion of Technology Services. If the equipment was department-funded and the computer experiences a hardware failure and is out of warranty,

E. Telephony Equipment

Each full-time employee will receive equipment that can be used with Loyola's telephony system.

Departmental faxing is provided through the online HoundFax service. Physical fax machines are not supported.

F. Printing

Loyola uses a managed print system called HoundPrint which allows those with a Loyola account to print from any computer on campus to any multifunction device (copy/print/scan). Personal or networked printers outside of those provided through the HoundPrint program are prohibited except with prior Technology Services approval. The printing cost is charged to the appropriate department (faculty, staff) or Evergreen account (student). Consumables (toner, paper, staples, waste toner bottles) and maintenance for all HoundPrint devices are included in the printing charge and provided through the HoundPrint program.

G. Digital Signage

Digital signage is managed through Technology Services and is required to connect to Loyola's centralized signage and emergency notification systems. Departments are responsible for the funding of equipment, licenses and installation costs for new or updated signage specific to departmental use.

5. Remote Employee Equipment

Internet connections, photocopiers, subscriptions, printers, cell phones and other technology hardware for home use are not provided by the University and are an expense of the employee. For full details, refer to Loyola's Remote Work Policy.

SPECIAL SITUATIONS/EXCEPTIONS

Exceptions to this Policy require written approval by the provost or divisional vice president, or designee (department chair, dean, etc.), and the CIO.
